++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry with breezy winds easing into the evening.

Today:
A largely dry day with sunny spells, though the odd shower may affect northern areas through the morning. Remaining breezy through the day with occasional strong gusts and generally feeling fresher than Saturday. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Winds easing through the evening. Thereafter, a fine and dry night with prolonged clear intervals. Feeling chilly as temperatures drop off, allowing for a rural grass frost. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Monday:
A cold start on Monday under clear intervals but becoming increasingly cloudy through the day. Patchy rain spreading across the region later in the evening as a breeze picks up. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Turning milder into Tuesday with outbreaks of rain through the day before clearing on Wednesday. Remaining rather cloudy into Thursday with further patchy rain potentially spreading across the region.
